THE CATTLE CONVENTION.

The late meeting of the Nevada Live Stock Association at Elko was a gathering of nearly one hundred representative men of the State directly interested in the cattle industry, representing property actually worth fifteen millions of dollars. The output last year was about two millions of dollars, for 60,000 head of neat cattle were shipped to the San Francisco and Eastern markets. Only those who have taken the trouble to familiarize themselves with this important industry have a true idea of how really important it is, and how greatly Nevada is benefited by it. The State, as many are aware, is especially adapted for grazing purposes offering, the JOURNAL firmly believes, better facilities than any other State or Territory in the Union. The blizzards of other countries are unknown here, while the natural feed is as nutritious as the costly fattening products of other States. By reason of the many peculiarly favorable conditions Nevada possesses within her borders her beef has become famous for its juiciness and tenderness. It is the favorite in the best markets of the country. It is no wonder then that our best citizens have become identified with the cattle business, are accumulating cattle upon a thousand hills, and are amassing a fortune for a rainy day, or to make life comfortable in old age. The good they do themselves and the help they must necessarily be to the State at large can easily be observed by watching the proceedings of such a convention as the one at Elko. To see such an excellent body of men legislating for the protection of their own interests is a certain sign that some portion of their money and intellect must and will be devoted to the interests of others as well as to the State. They deserve the good will of all, for we are assured that they will do their part toward making Nevada prosperous, and a State worthy of the name.

PRESIDENT AND SENATE.

Senator Dolph concluded his speech Wednesday on the Edmund's resolution on the relation between the Senate and the Executive. He scored a good point when in referring to the pledges of the President that Union soldiers were to be given the preference in appointments he showed that but few of this class had received recognition from the hands of the present Administration and further, that many of those who had been removed were men who had distinguished themselves in the late war on the side of the Union, notably the late Postmaster and Collector of Customs at Philadelphia, both of whom were dismissed from their offices. A prominent Democratic Senator, in speaking of Dolph's speech said that in his judgment it was by far the ablest presentation so far made of the Republican side of the controversy, save perhaps, the opening speech of Edmunds.

Much interest and curiosity is felt throughout Arizona regarding the probability of the confirmation of the Federal officials appointed by Cleveland. Hitherto only two have been confirmed—Territorial Secretary Bayard and Surveyor-General Hise. There are still to be confirmed Judges Barnes, Shields and Porter, Governor Zulick, United States Attorney Rouse and United States Marshal Meade. Ex-Judge Pinney has already commenced a fight against his removal, based on the asserted fact that Cleveland has no power to remove Territorial Judges. A bitter fight is being waged against Marshal Meade, a long list of charges having been preferred of dereliction of duty. Quiet but persistent efforts are making to prevent the confirmation of Zulick on the ground of his connection in a Sonora mining enterprise of rather unsavory character. Therefore it looks at present rather doubtful whether all or the majority of the Arizona Federal officials will receive the necessary Senatorial indorsement.

The President has nominated Brigadier General O. O. Howard to be Major General, vice Pope, retired.

The powers, in their delicate consideration for the Greek government, have provided a way for its graceful surrender. They propose to blockade the Piræus, and keep their fleets at the port of Athens until the Hellenic reserves are disarmed. The manifest impossibility of resistance being thus demonstrated, it is thought that the mob will graciously permit the Government its existence. The powers seem always to be able to furnish fleets and armies to overawe the weak nationalities for freedom, but never to prevent oppression. They are ready enough to prevent Greece from taking what rightfully belongs to it, but they are less efficient in preventing Germany from taking what does not belong to it.

We are told that China took last year 155,000 barrels of California flour, and that if the boycott is kept up this market may be lost. This is a fearful threat, but it is consoling to remember that flour has a value in the markets of the world which would not be at all affected by a change in the destination of 155,000 barrels. The price of a staple is determined by the relation of the total demand and the total supply. If China refuses to buy from us, she would merely relieve the stock that is competing with us in other markets, and give us a better opening there. That is on the supposition that a trifling amount like 155,000 barrels could have any effect at all.

"When the present law of exclusion was passed," says Harper's Weekly, "the United States stigmatized the whole Chinese race, and undoubtedly stimulated the maltreatment of all who are now here." We remember very well the lull in the agitation which followed the adoption of the Restriction Act, and that the excitement did not rise again until the conviction was forced upon the people that the act was being made a mockery, and that the Chinese who now demand and receive justice at our hands were violating the very laws under which they expected protection. There is an old principle that those who demand equity must do equity.

It is reported that changes will soon occur in the Sub-Treasury at San Francisco, and that Secretary Manning awaits the report of the agent detailed to investigate the management of the office before taking action. It is learned that Brooks' nomination was confirmed at the solicitation of the President and Secretary of the Treasury as soon as the news of the $10,000 robbery reached Washington. This was done so that there could be no question as to the responsibility of Brooks' bondsmen for the loss. Reports received here do not convey the impression that the new treasurer is either a successful or popular officer.

Here's another crowd thinks it was elected President. The Jefferson Democratic Association, of Washington, has met, condemned the way the Government is run and adjourned. It did wrong to adjourn. It ought to have stayed in session until it was invited to rosen its hands and take the Government by the tail. So says the Alta.

The death of ex-Governor William Irwin reminds the Post that there are living six Governors of California who were elected by the people—viz., Burnett, Stanford, Low, Booth, Perkins, and Stoneman, and two, Downey and Pacheco, who became Governor by reason of vacancy in the office.

The Free Coinage bill will pass the House and Senate, but the President will veto it. The necessary two-thirds can be secured in the House but not in the Senate. So there will be nothing done on the silver question. Silver is making new friends everywhere throughout the East.

The members of the Tucson judicial district, irrespective of politics, have forwarded a petition to the United States Senate, requesting the confirmation of Judge W. H. Barnes. This action was taken by the people and bar of southern Arizona to show the feeling in the Territory.

Los Angeles, some months ago adopted the $50 a month high license policy. Her people could not now possibly be induced to give it up.

A RESUME TO CLEVELAND. A Hint That He Should Regard the Platform of His Party.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: The Senate Committee on the District of Columbia has decided to report adversely the nomination of Matthews, a colored man from Albany, as Register of Deeds in Washington. There are numerous petitions before the committee for the confirmation of Matthews, but they are from outside the District. There are no formal remonstrances against his confirmation, but the committee have been urged by numerous citizens to recommend his rejection, and have decided to do so on the ground that a resident of the District should have been appointed. The platform of both parties at Chicago declared in favor of resident citizens being appointed to offices of the Territories and the District of Columbia.

The Austrian Mission.

Petitions and letters continue to pour in upon the President from California, New York and the South in favor of Louis T. Haggin, as Minister to Austria. The President told a Californian a few days ago that he intended at the outset of his Administration to give the Pacific Coast a foreign mission. He stated that he had offered the China mission to one San Franciscan, who declined it. Haggin's friends evidently think that there are great chances to secure his appointment. It is probable that the President is now thinking of filling the vacancy at Vienna. He told a Californian that the Pacific coast seemed unanimous for Haggin, judging from the petitions he had received in his favor. The Californian told the President it would be an unwise appointment as young Haggin was wholly without experience in official life. The President was somewhat surprised at this statement, showing that he had formed a very favorable opinion of Haggin from the many testimonials he had received.

Dement Not Secure in His Office After All.

Surveyor General Dement's enemies made good their threats of a few days ago by entering a motion Wednesday forenoon to reconsider his confirmation. When this was done General Logan made a brief speech, in which he repeated what he had said at the previous executive session, to wit, that Dement was the victim of a conspiracy and that he (Logan) was not disposed to see him abused. What irritated General Logan particularly was the fact that the motion to reconsider was made by one of the Senators who voted for Dement's confirmation the other day. This is regarded as a confession of weakness on the part of at least one of Dement's supporters, and gives rise to the belief that when the vote shall be again taken Dement may be rejected.

A Seducer Killed.

MEMPHIS, (Tenn), March 18.—At 8 o'clock last night Emma Norman, a young lady 21 years of age, shot and killed Henry Arnold, proprietor of a grocery store. It is charged that Arnold ruined Miss Norman about eighteen months ago, and had made repeated promises to marry her. A short time ago he married Miss Nellie Kelly, and last night while standing in front of his store he was shot through the heart by Miss Norman, who approached him from behind. Miss Norman resides eight miles in the country, and came to town for the express purpose of killing her seducer. She was arrested. She expresses great satisfaction at the fatal result of her shot.

A Coup on Germany's Shoulder.

The Berlin Post says: France confesses that she is waiting to attack Germany. This is serious. The Germans who desired to conciliate France will now recognize the uselessness of conciliation, and will wish that Frenchmen will soon find the opportunity they desire.

The Broadway Surface Railroad stea is coming to the surface. One of the Alderman has given the whole business away. The arrest and confession is the excitement in New York.

THE STEWART RESIDENCE. Nearly Completed in Carson—A Description of It.

The Carson Free Lance says: Mrs. W. M. Stewart's magnificent residence three blocks from the Opera House, is nearing completion. It will be known as Castle Stewart, No. 2. It has fifteen large rooms and twenty-two small ones, besides seven ample closets and storerooms, bath-rooms up stairs and down. On the first floor are the three principal rooms of the house—the north parlor or blue room, the south parlor, finished in a novel color which may be called a light buff or chocolate, slightly suggestive of gray, and Mrs. Stewart's private apartments (in which there is an elegant fireplace), just west of the south parlor. There are three spacious bed-rooms up stairs. The main building is 34x50, and in addition there are two Ls—one 18x30 and the other 22x30. In the rear there will be poultry houses, stables, etc. The interior woodwork is in imitation of walnut and oak. N. S. Moody, the contractor, under whose skillful direction the work is being done, will not tell just what the cost of the building will be, but says it will go over $5,000. Mrs. Stewart says her health is never so good as when she is here in Nevada, and she has therefore decided to make this her home for the rest of her life, and she certainly has made arrangements for passing the time comfortably, so far as surroundings can minister to the result.

Miss Cleveland's Ideas on Modest Attire.

A Boston special says: Miss Cleveland has been sharply criticised for encouraging at the White House immodest dressing in society. A lady at New York has received a letter from Miss Cleveland in response to a note of inquiry on the subject, in which she says: "I am very glad you have spoken to me about this matter. Newspaper statements with regard to my 'immodest dressing' and its influence in encouraging shocking scarcity of waists and sleeves in other women's dresses have been sent to me several times, with accompanying comments, but always anonymously signed. I should hardly feel true respect for the person whom I believed to be doing what the newspaper slip represents me to be doing—namely, using the brief prominence of my position to encourage habits in dress which are subversive of whatsoever things are pure, lovely, honest, and of good report. Such I believe the immodest dress of a few society women to be, and against such immodesty I have made that silent protest which it is every woman's right and duty to make by having my own dress waist in a style which so far as modesty is concerned I should feel quite willing to have any woman to whom this style of dress is becoming and comfortable fellow. I approve of an evening dress which shows the neck and arms, but I do not approve of any dress which shows the bust. Between the neck and bust there is a line always to be drawn, and it is as clear to the most frivolous society woman as to the anatomist, but this line need never to be passed and a fashionable woman's low neck evening dress need never be immodest. If it is so, it is because she prefers it to be so. An American woman can wear the waist of her evening dress up to the lobes of her ears if she likes. There is no queen to command her to appear in low corage. She can also so contrive her dress that by the exposure of her person all true social ethics and aesthetics as well are revolted. Between the two there is an appropriate, and beautiful and modest mean which all can if they will follow."

Mrs. Mackay in London.

The London Truth says: Mrs. Mackay has rented No. 70 Buckingham Gate from Lord Ludeley for the reason. This will be joyful news for Lord Out-at-the-elbows and Lady Nothing. Nowhere is there a class of aristocrats who spouse so assiduously upon Americans.

The Dayton News Reporter says a man who understands the business, and who can command the necessary capital, way not only make himself rich, but may also be the means of enriching many others by erecting a first-class flouring mill in Mason Valley.

Advice to Mothers. Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? TO THE LADIES OF RENO—BUSINESS CHANGE.—Miss Sadie Sykes tenders her best thanks to the ladies of Reno and vicinity for the patronage and support they have given her for the past three years, and desires to inform them that she has this day disposed of her business to Mrs. Hessel, for whom she solicits a continuance of their kind patronage and support.

Referring to the above Mrs. Hessel respectfully solicits a continuance of the patronage so liberally accorded to her predecessor, and assures the ladies of Reno and vicinity that her untiring efforts will be put forth to keep the business up to its former high standard. Her knowledge of the business, combined with the services of a first-class assistant, will insure perfect satisfaction at all times.

Theo. Winters, Alvaro Evans and A. A. Longley have been reappointed Directors of the State Agricultural Society by Governor Adams. The three Directors appointed by Lieutenant and Acting Governor Laughton failed to qualify.

SIDES PROSPEROUS.—Johnson Sides, the Plute warrior and interpreter, says the Enterprise, now makes his permanent headquarters at Reno. He informed the writer of this a day or two since that he prefers Reno to Carson by reason of better chances for a living. Said he: "I've got my wife and two children here, and always gets plenty of grub. They're lots of trout in the river and good chance to ride on the cars when he wants to go out to Humboldt or any where else hunting and duck shoot-in'. I don't got no money, and never wants even a half-dollar or two but unless some friend like you wants to do me a favor so's, I can buy some shoes or things for my children, then I don't refuse, if it's only a bit. I never wants more'n half a dollar anyhow."

TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED OPERATIONS.—Says the Pioche Record: The Bullionville Smelting Company have temporarily suspended operations, but will resume work again as soon as W. S. Godbe and other gentlemen arrive from Salt Lake, which will be in four or five days. The cause of the suspension is attributed to the roasters' inability to chloridize the ore to a reasonable percentage, but as such a thing is said to be practicable, the company are sanguine of yet making a success.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ELKO.

Resolutions Adopted—Officers Re-elected—Executive Committee—Reno Next Session—Etc.

The Convention met at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, and a vote was taken on the pending resolution of Col. Moore. It was laid on the table by a vote of 54 to 16.

The election of officers for the ensuing year being in order the present officers were re-elected.

The Executive Committee was selected as follows:

E. W. Crutcher, Paradise; F. D. Sweetser, Winnemucca; Geo. Watt, Austin; T. D. Page, Eureka; L. G. Clark, Eagle Creek; N. H. A. Mason, Malheur; J. Marzen, Lovelock; Lonis Dean, Granite Creek Meadows; Geo. W. Mapes, Reno; H. L. Byrne, Duck Valley; A. Wiseman, Ruby Valley; A. Benson, Beowawe; E. C. Hardy, Toano; T. B. Riekey, Carson; A. G. Sparks, Thousand Springs; E. Mullaney, Ft. McDermitt; D. Sherk, Cedarville; A. D. Wilcox, Battle Mountain.

Geo. Russell, Geo. Watt and E. C. Hardy were appointed a Committee to report such resolutions as will cover the subjects upon which this Association desires to offer suggestions pertaining to matters believed to be for the welfare of the Association. The following resolutions were reported and adopted:

WHEREAS, There is now existing in the cities of the Eastern seaboard of the United States a certain infectious bovine disease known as pleuro-pneumonia or lung plague, and

WHEREAS, The said disease is liable to be brought to our western ranges, unless stringent quarantine measures be enforced; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the cattle growers of Nevada, in annual convention assembled, that the Senators and Representatives from this State be requested to use their utmost endeavors to secure the enactment of a law by Congress to facilitate and strengthen the efforts of the "Bureau of Animal Industry," so as to enable its officers to effectually stamp out all infectious diseases of animals that may be found to exist anywhere within the jurisdiction of the United States.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of this Association to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

WHEREAS, The live stock industry in the State of Nevada has become one of the most important vocations within her boundaries, and

WHEREAS, It is almost indispensable to the fostering of that industry that proper sanitary laws shall be enacted by the Legislature of this State to protect the stock growers against the introduction in our midst of animals infected with disease of any kind; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Nevada Live Stock Association, in annual convention assembled, that Representatives from the various counties in this State to the Legislature at its next session enact such legislation as will prevent the importation of animals from any other State or Territory of the United States, and particularly from the State of Texas, which are or have been exposed to any infectious disease.

Resolved, That our Senators be instructed and our Representatives be requested to use all honorable means to induce the General Government to cede to Nevada all public lands in the State, to the end that property may be created, and settlement induced, thereby insuring direct benefit to the State and indirect benefit to the United States; for the reason that no advantages are offered by the present United States system, while the State could offer such inducements as would result in the greatest good to all concerned.

WHEREAS, Since the last meeting of this Association it hath pleased an overruling Providence to remove from our midst our former esteemed companions and associates, John Crocker, James H. Templar and F. M. Overfield; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the loss of each of our deceased friends and comrades this Association has been deprived of an efficient and honored member, the community a respected and worthy citizen, and the family an indulgent and devoted husband and father;

Resolved, That we extend the families of our deceased brothers our most sincere sympathy and condolence in their sad bereavement, and trust that the Great Architect of the Universe, from whom every blessing proceeds, will extend them that consolation and sustenance which He alone is able to bestow;

Resolved, That this preamble and resolutions be spread at large upon the records this of Association.

Mr. Evans, of the Oregon Short Line, Mr. Hardy, Col. Hardin, P. J. French, Mr. Scott and Mr. Benson indulged in comments upon the relation of Nevada beef to the Eastern market, during the progress of which many interesting experiences were given.

Rev. Mr. Sisson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Winnemucca, was introduced to the Association, and invoked the aid of the members toward lifting the church debt at that place. They responded by contributing $165.

The question of the place of meeting next year was brought up. Col. Hardin nominated Reno. Geo. W. Baker nominated Eureka. Mr. Russell, Mr. Marzen, and Mr. Page favored Reno. Mr. Moore favored Winnemucca. Reno was chosen by an almost unanimous vote. The time was fixed for the third Tuesday of March, 1887.

A. S. Mercer, editor of the Northwestern Live Stock Journal, published at Cheyenne, who was in attendance, responded to a call of the convention, and in a plain, practical speech gave at length the result of much observation and experience as a publisher of a journal devoted to the live stock interest, making many valuable suggestions, both of a specific and general nature, in relation to the breeding and handling of stock, and the methods of protection from the approach or advance of contagion among range stock. Mr. Mercer is evidently familiar with the subject in hand, as evinced by the cogency of his reasoning in support of the practical proposition advanced, and his remarks were listened to with interest throughout.

The convention was also briefly addressed by W. O. B. Allen, Secretary of the Idaho Cattle Growers' Association, and agent for the Union Pacific Railroad Company, on the subject of transporting stock to Eastern Markets.

Vote of thanks were returned to the President, Secretary and Executive Committee for their faithful labors. Also to Mr. Mercer, of the Northwestern Live Stock Journal, for the interest manifested in the cause. Also to Mr. Evans, Mr. Sears, and Mr. Powung, for the interest displayed by them.

Mr. Mercer thought the convention had been very harmonious, and congratulated the Association upon the work done and the manner in which it had been done. He adverted to the International Range Association, and explained the benefits certain to arise from its work.

Convention then adjourned sine die, notes.

The Executive Committee held a meeting immediately after the adjournment of the Convention and selected E. W. Crutcher, F. D. Sweetser, G. W. Crum, F. Siebbolds and Geo. Russell, a Sub-Committee, with full power to act for the Committee.

The unavoidable absence of Hook Mason, A. C. Cleveland, Tom Riekey, G. W. Mapes, Al Lougley, and other members, was greatly regretted by those present.

Among the members of the Convention were a number of gentlemen who had served in the Legislature.

Col. Hardin's suggestions were generally adopted by the members, and should the Col. shy his castor into the gubernatorial ring he would find many warm advocates among the members of the Association.

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING.—Relative to the change in location of the proposed new Government building at Carson, the Carson Appeal of Thursday gives the following: Yesterday the following dispatch was received by Tremor Coffin:

WASHINGTON, March 16, 1886. — T. Coffin, United States Attorney, Carson City, Nevada: Obtain from Tully release of Government from contract to purchase block 11, under Department letter of February 21st.

D. MANNING, Secretary.

It is generally believed that the Opera House block will be chosen after this release is obtained.

Tully, who sold block 11, says he will give the release when the money is paid. There is talk of citizens who favor the new location subscribing the amount if the Government will not pay.

SHORT STORIES.—There lies on the editorial table, a book with the above title, written and published by Sam Davis, of the Carson Appeal. As the frontispiece states, it is full of "California sketches, bright, humorous." Mr. Davis has long been recognized as a versatile witty writer; his short sketches and witty sayings have been copied all over the coast. The book now issued, is a collection of the best of them all. It is brim full, covers and all, of bright spicy things, that to a Californian or Nevadan are particularly appropriate. Mr. Davis may be proud of his offspring, and it is hoped and trusted it will live and grow throughout succeeding generations. The price of the book in a paper cover, 50 cents, cloth, $1. The book should be on the table of every household on the coast. Send to S. P. Davis, Carson, for a copy.

A BIG CORPORATION.—The Oregon Land and Live Stock Company has been incorporated, for the purpose of dealing in land and live stock. The incorporators and Directors are: Rollin A. West, H. H. West, F. M. West, Francis G. Newlands, F. W. Sharon and James M. Allen, who have subscribed the full amount of the capital stock—$1,000,000.
